Narrative

Our school's needs for quick access, quick response times, to the Internet grows every year. We have a science etechbook, we are a Google Apps For Education School, and teachers have websites for communications to students and parents. The administrative staff requires quick access to cloud-based applications for attendance, report card distributions, and many other reports required by the administration of the Archdiocese of Philadelphia. We have close to 500 devices which include desktops, and iPads. There is a 1:1 initiative in grades 4 through 8 and we have 4 shared carts of iPads for Pre-K through grade 3 to share. Students use them consistently with their teachers throughout the school day for testing as well as enrichment. Teachers and visitors, also, have smartphones and tablets that they use for activities/communications. We have tried the comcast business class modem for a year and one half, including summer. We paid for 100 Mbps down and 25 up. It does not satisfy the activity going to the Internet and back. It has been determined that the Ethernet Dedicated line at 100 MBps would greatly improve the access to the Internet for our students and teachers. FIOS is not available in our area.
